ALLOT FUNDS FOR REPAIR OF BAYSHORE ROAD

$20,000 To Be Used Soon For Repair On Highway Slide Near Brisbane

"The day is fast approaching when we must increase the gasoline tax to take care of needed highway construction," State Highway Commissioner Ray Judah of Santa Cruz told more than 200 Peninsula residents at a meeting called by the El Camino Real Association in Redwood City on Wednesday evening of this week.

The association delayed arguments over changing the highway markings on El Camino and Bayshore until a later meeting, to be held in the near future.

In the meantime, restoration of two slide ripped highways in San Mateo County was assured after release by the State Highway Commission of $4,000,000.

To the County of San Mateo went $70,000 of this money. Twenty thousand dollars of this sum will be used to repair the slide which occurred recently on the Bayshore Highway near Brisbane ,and which left the road in dangerous condition. This road will be cut down to bedrock, then filled with boulders. Pending completion of the road, which is expected to be in about two weeks, only two lanes will be kept open.

The remaining $50,000 of the sum will be spent at the junction of the Skyline boulevard and the road to Half Moon Bay. After a 200 foot slide, about three years ago, the road was routed on an old level. It will now be realigned along the proper route.

HOLD DISCUSSION IN JOURNALISM AT PRESS SESSIONS

University Of California Sponsors Meet For High And Jaysee Students

The Fifth Annual Press Convention, sponsored by the University of California for high school and junior college journalists, was the most successful held to date. Sessions began last Thursday and concluded with the luncheon Saturday afternoon. Over 500 students from all sections of California attended the convention along with more than three score instructors in Journalism.

This year the plan followed was a College of Journalism with the various officials of the average college in charge of the several departments. Members of the staff of the Daily Californian were the professors who conducted regular class work. On the final day diplomas were awarded to those who had successfully completed the various courses. Prizes were awarded to students who were outstanding in several fields of writing.

John B. Long, manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, was the featured speaker at the Friday luncheon. He discussed briefly the background that a successful journalist should have, emphasizing ancient, modern and American history, as well as economics and a broad knowledge in the field of literature.

The commencement luncheon, held on Saturday, had as its featured speaker John B. Hughes, famed radio commentator, who stressed several of the important phases of news broadcasting. Mr. Hughes read from certain communications he had received from listeners, and showed how difficult it is for some listeners to gain the correct meaning of the news that is broadcasted. Mr. Hughes is of the opinion that the radio is an important adjunct to the newspaper, and that it will not replace the printed page.

The Journalism advisors had a two-hour meeting on Saturday morning, which was presided over by Clive M. Saiz, president of the Central California Journalism Advisors Association. The session was addressed by Dr. Franklin Palm, professor of modern European history, who presented as his subject "The World Unrest." Professor Charles Raymond of the Department of Journalism, also gave a brief address.

GOOD BRAKES MIGHT SAVE BAD BREAKS

Spring is the time when housewives take their curtains down and do a thorough job of cleaning up the house—and it is a good time for you, Mr. Motorist, to check over the car and make sure it won't be a death trap for your family.

Better than 15 per cent of all traffic accidents, according to the National Safety Council, are caused by automobile defects. Bad brakes and deficient or glaring headlights are the most common of these.

Do you know how it feels to press the brake pedal down to the floorboard, and to have your car keep on going? It is a sickening feeling. But it does not have to happen to you, if you take just a bit of precaution now. Remember, good brakes prevent bad breaks.—SAN MATEO COUNTY SAFETY COMMISSION.

CHARGE POLITICS IS ONLY REASON OF ACCUSATIONS

Claim Made Explanation Could Have Been Easily Obtained By Sincere Seeker.

Mayor John P. Lawson of Bayshore City, on Wednesday, branded as a "political move on the eve of election," the civil action of ex-Police Chief Claude C. Higgins, filed earlier in the week, charging the mayor and four other city officials with "embezzling" $2000 of relief money given the community by the San Mateo County Greyhound Breeders' Association in 1934.

"We have an election in Bayshore on April 12," said Mayor Lawson. "I am a candidate for reelection. So is Councilman A. L. Herrmann, another of the defendants. This suit is nothing more than a last-minute political move of our adversaries.

"I am entirely innocent of any wrongdoing. So are the other officials accused by Mr. Higgins.

"The $2000 check in question which Mr. Higgins says was given the city on September 29, 1934, by the greyhound people for relief purposes, actually was given to the building fund of the Bayshore Voters League. We will produce photostatic copies of the check to prove this. As a matter of fact the greyhound association gave three checks, the first for $2000 and the others for $1000 each, to the league's building fund.

"A $2000 check was given to the city for relief purposes by the greyhound people at a later date. It was deposited in the city relief fund, and was used to pay grocery bills of families on relief, and other relief measures.

"The other checks given to the league's building fund, had nothing to do with the city, so that Mr. Higgin's charges that we were illegally contracting with ourselves are ridiculous."

Mayor Lawson said the league hall is owned by more than 300 members,

Italian Mission At Holy Angels Church

From April 3 to April 10 there will be an Italian Mission preached in Italian by the Rev. Father Louis Sciocchetti of San Francisco, at Holy Angels Church in Colma.

The opening of the Mission will take place on Sunday evening, April 3, at 7:30 with Rosary and Benediction.

Every day of the week there will be Mass at 7 a.m. with short sermon and in the evening at 7:30, Rosary, sermon and Benediction.

The closing of the Mission will be on Sunday evening, April 10, at 7:30.

The Rev. Father Louis Sciocchetti is well known around Colma, as he has preached here before, and the pastor, Father J. Sorasio, invites all the Italian residents to attend this Mission.

Dog Survives Broken Back After Three Story Fall

His hind quarters completely paralyzed by a recent fall, Pete, neighborhood pet, is pictured with his specially built carriage which enables him to romp and playy with Eddie Alfering (left) and Charles Steele Jr., both of San Francisco. A veterinarian made the carriage for Pete and said it would be about a year before anyone could tell about the dog's complete recovery. The boys shown with the crippled dog say he can run like "lightning" with the aid of wheels, even up stairs.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE SLATED

Again this year, Peninsulans will attend Easter Sunrise Services at Emerald Lake Bowl, at the base of the giant cross just west of Redwood City.

Plans for the ninth annual rites, to be held April 17 at 5:33 a.m., were outlined at a meeting in Redwood City this week of a citizens' committee headed by Charles G. Lambert, former mayor there. The committee is being aided by the Redwood City Ministerial Union.

At the non-denominational services, which will be about a half hour in length, Redwood City's new municipal band of 40 pieces will furnish the instrumental music. A chorus to lead the singing is being organized under direction of Mrs. F. M. Perkins. Thomas M. Badley, Peninsula Y. M. C. A. secretary, will preside.

Principal speaker will be J. Douglas Ewan, pastor of the Burlingame Methodist Church.

The bowl, from which may be obtained a beautiful view of the bay and Santa Clara Valley, is reported to be in excellent condition despite the heavy rains. Parking space is available for more than a thousand automobiles. Annually thousands of worshippers make the early morning trek for the Easter services, although last year was an exception, when the rites were canceled due to the rains.

Daly City Merchants Association Meeting

On Wednesday evening of next week the Daly City Merchants Association will meet in regular session.

In an effort to stimulate increase in home buying and population, it is expected a committee will be appointed to meet President Kahn of the Market Street Railway and endeavor to secure transportation for a five cent fare to the southern section of Daly City at an early date.

SHERIFF McGRATH AGAIN ON DUTY

Sheriff McGrath has returned to his duties in his office in Redwood City, after an illness of several weeks.

The sheriff is 75 pounds lighter than when he left the office, and said he was in excellent health. He spent more than three hours, early this week, in his office signing papers and catching up with his correspondence.

When Frank Jones of Chicago tried to flirt with a girl on the street, she knocked him down, had him arrested, and he was fined $50.

OFFICERS LIKELY SEEK PAY RAISE

The board of supervisors may be asked to restore salaries of some elective county officials to the level of the last County Government bill in 1931, it was revealed this week as the board and County Executive Rolison prepared to begin deliberation of the new salary budget.

Charter law, which requires that salaries of elective officials for the ensuing four years must be set 90 days prior to the August primary election, will bring the issue to a head within the next two weeks, it was said.

The primary is August 30. Allowing for the customary 30 days after passage, the salary budget must be adopted by the board on April 19, the day set for a public hearing on budget matters.

Before the salary schedule is adopted by the board, however, the county grand jury is expected to take a crack at it.

At last week's meeting, the jury voted to request a copy of the salary budget in advance, and promised to give it close scrutiny. The grand jury indicated at the time that it intends to take an active part in the budget discussion to the end of keeping county governmental expenditures to a minimum.

Senate Approves Increase In Judges

On Wednesday of this week, at Washington, the Senate approved by a 70 to 7 vote and sent to the House legislation which would create 22 new judgeships in various sections of the United States.

The legislation provides one additional judge for the Northern and Southern California districts.

EAGLES TO HAVE COUNTY MEETING

Finals preparations are being made by Chairman Otto Schramm and his committee for the big time to be given by the Eagles of San Mateo County in Fraternal Hall, South San Francisco, on April 22.

Among the notables who plan to be present are State President William Hornblower, State Secretary William R. Hagerty and State Organizer D. D. Heagerty.

The drill team of Golden Gate Aerie No. 61 will assist in the initiatory work. From the latest reports received by Chairman Shramm a class of 100 new members will be inducted into the five aeries. This class of candidates will honor all past presidents of the combined aeries.

The officers for that evening will be selected from among the past presidents of years gone by.

Be sure and attend brother Eagle.

School Children Special Matinee

The San Francisco Federal Theater Project is inaugurating a new policy of devoting Saturday afternoons to special plays for children. With the cooperation of various school boards in the Bay area the play "Pinocchio" has been presented on Saturdays for some weeks. Its success has been such that it will be retained throughout the remainder of March and all of April. Each Saturday afternoon every seat in the house is occupied by children and their parents.

Through school principals arrangements have been completed whereby school children may obtain special rate tickets for the children's matinees of "Pinocchio." "Pinocchio" employs a cast of 65 adult professional actors and has special music, scenery, lighting effects and colorful and fantastic costuming. All school children's special tickets are good for any performance during the run of "Pinocchio."

FIGHT IS EXPECTED ON CARFARE BOOST

Opposition to the Market Street Railway's 7-cent fare application has been recommended to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors by its Judiciary Committee.

The committee resolution will be before the board next Monday. The company's etitipon will be given a hearing by the Railroad Commission April 13.

SEVEN OFFICIALS ARE ACCUSED OF MISCONDUCT

Former Chief Of Police Files Charges And Demands Removal From Office

In a suit filed, Tuesday noon of this week, in the San Mateo County Superior court, the entire city council and the city clerk of Bayshore City are accused of alleged acts of malfeasance and misfeasance in the conduct of their offices.

The accusations are made by Claude C. Higgins, formerly chief of police of the newly incorporated municipality.

The five officials were accused of misappropriating and embezzling $2000 given to the city by the San Mateo County Greyhound Breeders' Association for relief purposes in Bayshore City.

Higgins' suit also charges that five members of the city council wrongfully entered into a contract between the city and the Bayshore Voters League and Voters League Hall Associations for lease of the League's meeting hall as a city hall, while they were officers and directors of the two associations.

Rental moneys received from the city treasury by the League Hall Association were used by Mayor Lawson and the councilmen to further their political aspirations, it is charged.

Higgins claims that on September 29, 1934, the breeders association, whose members race at the Bayshore dog track, made payable a check for $2000 to the city, signed by Peter P. O'Connor as secretary-treasurer, to be disbursed by the council to the sick, unemployed and indigent in Bayshore.

The same day, Higgins says, Mayor Lawson requested the city treasurer to indorse the check and present it to the Geneva-Mission branch of the Bank of America, obtain the money and deliver it to him personally.

It is declared Mrs. Riley cashed the check and delivered the money to the mayor.

"The $2000," Higgins alleges, "was never expended for or on behalf of sick and indigent persons and for

The program was conducted with the cooperation of the Daly City WPA Recreation Project, which laid out the course, measured the casts and tallied the scores. Allan B. Gould and George McLeod acted for the Recreation group.

The longest cast of the day was made by Al Carlson, who achieved 315 feet, 4½ inches in a single throw and piled up a score of 921 feet, 5½ inches for the Ingleside Sportsman Club. This also was the highest total score of the day.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

We begin this column today with a loud, joyous Hurrah! Is there any need to explain why? 'Nuf sed.

And so we start gardening, and clearing away the debris left by the long winter rains and fierce winds. Those deep gullies in the roads keep residents at Pedro and in the "suburban" parts of the metropolis of Rockaway Beach, busy filling them in with gravel and smoothing the roadway down for the heavy traffic of the coming summer season. George Olmo has accomplished a good job of mending the road past his home, and now it's in fair shape, with the drainage carried across and down hill to the main outlet.

The William Johnsons spent Sunday at their weekend cabin, preparing the ground for a lawn, and installing a number of improvements, among these a septic tank. The house got a fresh coat of paint last week, and it now looks as bright as the traditional dollar. Window boxes for flowers, and several new type casements give the Johnson place the thrifty, up-to-date appearance so ideal for a community.

"Andy" Anderson, fishing partner of Jim Stuart, Pedro, has the sympathy of the community over the loss of his fine cabin cruiser a few days ago. The boat has been anchored offshore for several weeks past, battered by the smashing seas and the winds, and at last she parted her cable and began to drift to sea. Every effort was made to save the boat, but she went on the rocks and finally sank, carrying to the bottom a chain and anchor for which Anderson had reportedly paid twenty-five dollars several month ago. Soon bits of the shattered boat came in on the waves, and all hopes of salvaging her were abandoned. Fishing has, indeed, been hard hit during the past winter, for the sea has been so rough that it has been almost impossible for Stuart and his partner to get their boats out, and very scant luck when they did manage to get the line out. It has been only a short time since one of the best of the Stuart boats broke loose and was taken out to sea. Search was made, and coast dwellers notified to keep a lookout for the missing boat, but, according to local reports, the craft was never found. A serious loss to the fishing interests of this place. Better luck in the future!

A remarkable curiosity was added to the sea-going treasures at Shelter Cove last week. It is a bottle containing two full-rigged ships, and two smaller one, with a tiny light-house, an edge of green shore with trees, the whole laid on a realistic blue "sea" with infinitesimal "waves" beating on a sandy coast. One sees such bottle containing perhaps a single crude ship, made by some persevering sailor in his leisure moments, but rarely can a bottle be bought that holds so many crafts as does this one, together with its accompanying "scenery" — all made with exquisite care and just as perfect as can be. This treasure of "bottled ships" has been pronounced "top-high," by an expert, as being an item that only a collector of rarities could wholly evaluate.

The report that Carl and Gladys Strutz had moved to Angel's Camp, turns out to be "greatly exaggerated," like the classic announcement of Mark Twain's demise years previous to his passing. We are glad to welcome the Strutzes back to the hill.

Miss Ruth Macdowell, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Becky Johnson, is enjoying horseback rides, and also the walk along the highway to Rockaway these spring days.

Mrs. Bailey, the Hector Martins, Mrs. Becky Johnson and her niece, Miss Macdowell, held an impromptu party at the new Maracci place on the Pedro beach on Saturday.

"Johnny Hills" had a tryout at the Bay Meadows track recently.

Motorists will be gratified when the new coast highway is open again, following the slides that have kept it closed to traffic for the past few weeks in the section from the Alemany Cutoff, across the Skyline, and into the coast road, as far as Salada. Slides continue on the highway between Rockaway and Pedro, and beyond Pedro to Montara, making travel uncertain, detours along the old coast road, which is not in the best of order at present.

The "Pat" Dempseys have gone to the city for a while, leaving only their disconsolate cat and dog to represent the "family" during their absence. The Dempsey lawn is doing well, and it looks like a thick green carpet against the background of the house. This is one of the few level spots in the neighborhood, and just the right place for a lawn.

How many residents have a box at the new Pedro Valley post office? Renting a box is a good way to help support the post office and keep the mailing service near at home. It's a much appreciated convenience for some of us.

Now that the weather has cleared, and the rains have (presumably) stopped, the "For Sale" signs begin to come down, and the home owners start gardening. These signs are almost always merely symptoms of temporary discouragement. Not to be taken too seriously, we imagine.

LAUGH A MINUTE FOR NEW COMEDY

A laugh a minute. That is the pace set by the new Federal Theater comedy, "Me, Third," which opened at the Alcazar Monday night. One hundred and fifty smiles, giggles, guffaws is the clocking "Me, Third" got on its opening night when every seat in the theater was occupied.

"Me, Third" will remain at the Alcazar for a two weeks run only, to be followed by the stirring drama of southeastern Europe, "Judgement Day," first of the Elmer Rice plays by a Pacific Coast FTP unit.

AN EXECUTIVE

"Dad, what is executive ability?"

"Executive ability, my boy, is the art of getting the credit for all the hard work that others do."

An electric light bulb has burned continuously for 28 years in the hallway between the stage and dressing rooms at the Palace Theater in Fort Worth, Tex.

When Albert Aslip of Cumberland, Md., returned to his parked car he found a police ticket for illegal parking on it. He tossed the ticket into the gutter, and as a result had to pay a $10 fine for litering the streets plus a $1 parking fine.

To Send Coed Delegates To University Of California For Discussions

San Mateo Junior College golfers will compete against the Stanford Freshman team, Saturday, on the Stanford course. The Mateans have had few matches as yet because of the wet weather.

A large cast has been named for the college play, "Stage Door," which will be rendered in May. The cast is one of the largest ever assembled at the Junior College.

The Junior College art department will send twelve pieces of student work to the annual spring art display which will be arranged at the de Young Museum in San Francisco, starting April 1. Eight northern California junior colleges will have their student work on exhibition.

This coming Sunday the Junior College will send two coed representatives to the University of California to take part in a student discussion regarding such matters as the honor system, housing and student organizations.

Tuesday evening of next week, County Treasurer A. H. Sagehorn will talk at the Junior College from 7:15 to 8:10 on "County Finance." The talk will precede the regular forum meeting and is open to the public.

A "Fools' Frolic" dance will be held this Friday evening, emphasizing the April fool's idea. An unusual feature is that each girl will invite her escort for this particular dance.

Speakers from the outside who have addressed junior college groups recently included one who spoke on mining engineering in South America and another who discussed earthquakes and the building of structures to withstand the quakes.

Faculty snapshot: President Charles "Jum" Morris—educated at Stanford: he was a noted trackman while there. Also got his nickname there through his size, for the orignial "Jumbo" was shortened to "Jum". Headed Modesto Junior College before coming to San Mateo. In addition to his work at the college is active on state committees dealing with education.

P. T. A. PRESIDENT REVIEWS THE PAST

Mrs. Gertha McKinney, president of the Brisbane P. T. A., extends her thanks for the splendid co-operation of all her officers and chairmen. In reviewing the work accomplished this year, she feels that the progressive ideas started last year by Mrs. Ethel Jonas and her co-workers have been successfully fulfilled. Throughout all of the splendid programs the theme "Parent Education, Universal Peace, and Student Safety" and the Seven Objectives of Education have been manifest.

Recreation was also a problem the unit attempted to take care of. This was done for the young people, by giving what was known as 10c dances. Talent from the group was gleaned and encouraged.

Recreation for the adult was taken care of by a class for physical education. Mrs. Eleanor Morley, a trained nurse, had charge, and during the summer when the group was larger, two classes had to be given.

Many afternoon and evening whists were enjoyed by a group of adults.

Christmas, a good program was furnished and the school presented with the new curtains and scenery for the stage. The children were coached in singing and presentation of a little play. Also, through the P. T. A., Mrs. Beatrice Annis gave a most useful set of reference books to the school, in memory of her husband, Mr. Arthur Annis. The children and grown-ups will long remember the friendship they had with Mr. Annis. The Social Club also helped in a donation toward the refreshments served.

The grades from 1 to 7 particiated in a jolly picnic. Also, you will remember the graduation party.

The lunches could not have been served as easily if the kitchen had not been furnished with equipment.

The members who attended the adult education classes instructed by Mrs. Margaret Weller vote they were very helpful and wish them continued next year.

Our young girls who are learning to sew, under the capable direction of Mrs. F. Dallas, are thrilled and pleased with themselves.

Soon a volley ball court will be erected on the school grounds for the enjoyment of our youngsters.

These are a few things P. T. A. has done this year, not mentioning the families helped through our organization. I have had people ask, "What good is a Parent Teacher Association?"

By buying at home you stimulate the progress of your community.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

The New Archives Building —Treasure Chest For Gold And Silver? No, Films

(By Hart Goodrich)

What would most of us give to hear the voice of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson or the famous "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death" of Patrick Henry! We can't hear them, but future generations of Americans may hear the addresses of every President since Harding, as well as other important speeches.

In the "little theater" of the Archives Building in Washington, President Roosevelt recently listened to the recording of his own inaugural address, just as in centuries to come thousands may hear his now famous "My friends" greeting in his fireside chats.

Here are carefully guarded more than 1,000,000 feet of World War pictures, and also many other films of deep historical significance. These pictures are frequently shown in the specially designed and constructed auditorium, the acoustic properties of which are reputed to be the most perfect in the world.

Among the interesting films already stored are educational pictures from the Department of Agricuuture and the Byrd Polar Expedition film, pictures depicting the tribal life of the American Indian and thrilling pictures of the Coast Guard and its rescue activities.

Little was known of film-testing to preserve films for an indefinite period a few years ago. However, through the scientific experiments of the Bureau of Standards and the co-operation of the National Research Council, the life of films is now prolonged from 25 to at least 500 years and perhaps permanently.

So perfectly has the fire hazard been solved that a major fire in the main building is practically impossible. An added precaution in this isolated "no man's land" is the automatic sprinkler system in the vaults and also in the nearby offices. Many brass gadgets from the sprinkling system dangle from the ceilings—and should the temperature rise a certain degree above the maintained 40 degrees in the vaults, or a fire break out, the lead fuse would melt—open the valves and the water would pour from the sprinklers.

For further safety—in the corridor end of the vault is a tricky 18x20 inch shutter, held open by an ordinary white string—strong, of course, but not fireproof. Should a fire break out the string burns and the door closes, preventing the fire and fumes from escaping to other parts of the building.

In the event of spontaneous combustion, the fire would be confined to one nitrate film and its own container, and no other film would be damaged—not even its nearest neighbor.

The films are kept in the very best condition by scientific air-conditioning and air ducts. The electric lights are inclosed in vapor-proof globes and give off no heat. The insulated flue, from which the vaults are vented to the roof, permits the escape of any products of decomposition or of combustion. In other words, the National Archives' newly-installed preservative and safety equipment controls the temperature, humidity, air content, heat conduction and air convection.

In this newest repository is preserved not only history of national events, but history of the scientific progress of motion pictures and sound recordings—from the still pictures and the old phonograph to the great theatrical, moving, color pictures synchronized with sound—and, as time goes on, perhaps films of which we in this generation have never dreamed!

Mayor Lawson Brands Attack By Former Police Chief Claude Higgins As A Political Maneuver

After being contacted today, Mayor John P. Lawson of Bayshore branded accusations of Claude Higgins, former Police Chief of Bayshore, as false the charges that $2900.00 had been embezzled by Mayor Lawson, four members of the City Council, Treasurer Lita Riley, and City Clerk Emma C. Shaw. He stated that the practice of starting law suits just before election, whereby the accused would have no chance to prove his innocence, is an old political trick and one that has been discarded by candidates of repute.

Mrs. Emma Shaw, city clerk of Bayshore, furnished the following facts:

That $4115 had been received by the Town of Bayshore Welfare Fund.

That the first check of $2000 had been received on October 3, 1934.

That the clerk was instructed by the city council to deposit said check and open an account in the name of the Town of Bayshore Welfare Fund in the Bank of America.

That checks on this account are drawn by the city clerk and signed by three members of the council, namely, Lawson, Parker and Smith.

That an audit is made of all city books once a year and that the auditing firm of C. E. Pratt made the audit of the relief accounts in 1935-36-37 and found them all in good order and that Mr. Pratt will furnish a statement to that effect at any time.

That out of the total amount of $4115 an expenditure of $4100 has been made for relief all of which can be accounted for by cancelled checks and records in the possession of the city clerk.

Mayor Lawson and other members of the council stated that they would take proper redress through the courts against their persecutor. It is said that the complaint by Mr. Higgins does not clearly state that his charges are backed up by proof, rather that they are to the best of his knowledge and belief

He stated that the building was needed because of the large amount of people who now attend the board meetings and also to store tools and equipment of the district. He stated that he and his colleagues felt that the Fire Hall was inadequate for their needs and also the new school building, now being erected in Bayshore. Work will start in the immediate future.

The exhibitions brought many interested folks to Bayshore not only to view the planes but to inspect the interior of the pavilion.

Utah Jurist To Face Theft Charges

Justice of the Peace Scipio J. Kenner of Bingham, Utah, is pictured in San Francisco city prison shortly after he was taken into custody on a telegraphic warrant from Salt Lake City. Kenner, who has only one leg, was picked up on the "Skidway" or "Street of Forgotten Men," but police did not know with what he was charged. Later Kenner told authorities that he eked out a meager living as justice of the peace, his income a percentage of fines imposed, amounting to about $30 a month. Two months ago, he confessed, he took about $1000 of collected fines and vanished. He lost his leg ten years ago in a mine accident.

COMMUNITY CHURCH NEWS

VICTORY SUNDAY

This closes our special services in the "Advance and Entertainment" campaign. We expect this series to be the basis of a firm foundation on which we can build through the years to come.

Church school meets at 10 a.m. with classes for all ages. Won't you be present and help us to reach our goals? The morning service meets at 11 a.m. with Rev. Merlin C. Donaldson delivering the sermon on the subject "Victorious Through Faith." The morning services are held in the Fire Hall with the evening service at 300 Klamath street.

Work on the Sunday School unit is progressing as rapidly as donated labor can put it up. Those interested in having a church here in Brisbane are asked to c-ooperate and lend a hand in the building.

The church is a history shaping cultural institution. It has zealously tried throughout history to correct evils of abuse, and to aid in economic adjustments.

Ideally the church is the institution for shaping character. It was here before we came and will be here after we leave. The nation is the nearest rival, but it is held by fixed molds and boundaries; whereas the church has no boundaries.

Every institution in a community sponsors certain values. The church is the only institution that avowedly stands for the highest values that man can aim for.

Its purpose is to keep these supreme values in the center of the community and seeks to keep men and women on the peaks of living. The staff serves those who are non members more than the members.

"Understanding Modern School Education" will be the theme of the meeting and there will be a school demonstration given by the children.

Mrs. Gaines and Mrs. Praul, chairmen of the whist party, held last Thursday at the Fire Hall, report this whist was quite a success, and wish to take this oportunity to thank everyone who helped by buying tickets and donating prizes.

The "Round Robin" is still being circulated around among our members, and we are wondering who will win.

April and May are P. T. A. convention months, and all members are urged to try to attend the Seventeenth District Convention which is to be held at San Mateo in April; also don't forget that the State Convention will be held in San Francisco this year.

So Butch Murdock is moving from his old stamping ground. We are informed that he is leasing the new store building under construction next to the Brisbane Drug Store.

We notice that Mr. and Mrs. Jonas are driving a new car. At first we thought it was a sign that the Mr. had a corner on the market, or maybe had gone around the right corner and bagged old man prosperity.

By the way, there are rumors that the front of the drug store is to be remodelled. May we suggest steel posts instead of wood?

According to the reports the new Bayshore lights are to be turned on April 1. We hope that it isn't another of those April fool jokes. When the lights were first started the completion date was set for February 1.

We notice that Mitch has a new helper on the bus. May we wish him the best and hope he stays with us for a while.

The young Van Zant girl is getting along nicely, thank you, following her fall into boiling water. She has had quite a siege of pain.

Mrs. McKinney is closing her term as P. T. A. president after a very successful year. At the meeting last Thursday, Mrs. Mabel Gull was elected as her successor. Good luck Mabel and may you continue the ideals of the organization.

What has happened to the rifle club? Don't tell me the boys all have shell shock and can't go out any more.

Don't forget to vote for fire commissioner Monday, April 4, at the Fire House. Polls are open from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Vote for the man you want, then you won't have to object to the work by the commission.

NO HARM DONE

. . . Which reminds me of the story they used to tell of a shiftless character in Gallipolis who piled into bed one night, shoes, clothes and all. After a while his wife shook him: "Get up, you got your shoes on."

relief purposes by. Lawson, Smith and Parker, or any of them.

"There are no warrants signed by them or other documentary evidence indicating that the $2000 was ever expended for the purpose for which it was given.

"The defendants Lawson, Smith, Parker, Shaw and Riley, after collecting and receiving the $2000 belonging to and for the use of the city, did not account for the same with the city clerk on October 1, 1934 and immediately thereafter pay the same into the city treasury.

"The plaintiff is informed and believes, and upon such information and belief, alleges the fact to be that said defendants have misappropriated, illegally obtained and embezzled the $2000, and further that said sum of money was never used by the defendants for relief purposes."

In conclusion, Higgins asserts that "all of said acts of malfeasance and misfeasance in office committed by the defendants were committed knowingly and wilfully; that said acts constituted a violation of section 886, chapter 7, act 5227 of the general laws of the state, and "demands that said defendants immediately be removed from office."

Higgins' attorney, Frank A. Flynn of San Francisco, former superintendent of the San Francisco municipal airport at Mills Field and one-time counsel for the Bayshore Sanitary District Board, said that possible criminal action in the case is "up to the district attorney and the county grand jury."

Flynn said that the allegations had been investigated by the last grand jury. "It declined to take action in the situation," Flynn commented.

The attorney said he has "no idea" how the $2000 gift from the breeders association was spent. "All we know and can prove is, that the money was not used for the purpose for which it was intended—aid of the sick and unemployed," the attorney declared.

MOST PAPERS DON'T

PRAYER

God looks not at the oratory of your prayers, how elegant they may be; nor at the geometry of your prayers, how long they may be; nor at the arithmetic of your prayers, how many they may be; nor at the logic of your prayers, how methodical they may be; but the sincerity of them he looks at.—Brooks.

INDICATORS

"Why have you no speedometer on your car?"

"I don't need one. At thirty miles an hour the lamps clatter; at forty the wings rattle; at fifty the whole car shakes; and if I go any quicker than that my teeth chatter."—Wochenchau.

who belong to a nonprofit organization. The council drew rental contract with the whole membership, Lawson declared.

Foreman Percy J. Shaw of the grand jury said today the inquisitorial body would "follow developments," but was inclined to believe it was the outgrowth of Bayshore "politics."

District Attorney Ferrell said his office would move cautiously. "I don't think we would take any action until after the municipal election," he declared. "That will give the political atmosphere a chance to clear."

He said it was "unusual" that the embezzlement charges, dating back to 1934, hadn't been brought to his attention sooner than three years later. Ferrell added that he did not believe that a civil action could bring about removal of the officers. Removal could be accomplished only by recall proceedings, or if the grand jury voted accusations forcing the accused to stand trial in superior court, he said.

Are You Legally Eligible To Go?

Legal requirements for admission to San Mateo County's Community Hospital, long a subject of dispute, were codified recently by Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of health and welfare. The 10 classes of patients who may be admitted:

1. Any person unable to pay wholly or in part for necessary medical care without depriving himself or his dependents of basic necessities of life.
2. Dependents of such persons.
3. Persons in active stages of tuberculosis, required to pay when able to do so.
4. Physically defective or handicapped persons under 18 when parents or guardians are not financially able to secure proper care and when such admission has been duly authorized as provided by law.
5. A psychopathic, narcotic addict, or habitual inebriate temporarily in custody.
6. Persons to be quarantined or isolated in the county hospital because of contagious, communicable, or infectious disease.
7. Persons confined to jail who require hospitalization when superior court orders admission.
8. County employes injured in course of employment when hospitalization is reasonably required to cure and relieve effects of injury.
9. Persons in need of immediate hospitalization on account of accident or sudden sickness or injury.
10. Any recipient of blind, aged, or orphan aid.

Each patient, Dr. Gans has ruled, must sign a request for admission affirming facts which make him admissible, promising to take medical and surgical treatment prescribed, and agreeing to abide by hospital rules.

SOLD

The tailor was selling his best friend a new suit. He was raving about the garment.

"I'm telling you, Harry," he said, "that even your best friend won't recognize you in that suit! Just take a walk outside for a minute and get the feel of the garment."

Harry went out and returned a moment later. The proprietor rushed up to him with a happy smile.

"Good morning, stranger," he beamed. "What can I do for you?"—Tit-Bits.
